

2025 May and Summer Fees

The total cost of attending a Summer Session (including May Term) includes both course (per-credit) fees and other mandatory fees, including the non-refundable enrollment fee. Some courses, including all online courses, have additional required fees. See the following table for fee descriptions and terms.

FEES	AMOUNT	WHEN THIS APPLIES
Course Fees (per credit) Required/base fee. Charged per credit hour.	$709 per credit for all undergraduate courses $1,084 per credit for all graduate courses	Course fees are calculated per credit for all students and apply to all summer courses. The per-credit rate is determined by the level (undergraduate or graduate) of the course. Examples: Course fees for a 3-credit undergraduate course = $2,127 Course fees for a 3-credit graduate course = $3,252.
Enrollment Fee Required fee (non-refundable).	$45 for UConn students $65 for non-UConn students	You will be charged the enrollment fee only one time per Summer (including May Term), no matter how many courses you take. This fee is non-refundable on the first day of session start dates for any course.
Technology Fee Required fee.	$30	Students are charged the technology fee once for any May Term course and a second time for any Summer Session courses (applied twice maximum).
Online Course Fee Required for all online courses in addition to other required fees.	$25/credit	Applies to online courses only. Students in online courses are charged an additional online course fee based on the number of credit-hours they are taking online. (Example: for a typical 3-credit online course, a student will pay a $75 online course fee in addition to course and other required fees.)
Late Fee Required when payment is late (see details at right).	$150 per session	Charged only to students who do not pay their fees bill for a course by the fees due date for the session in which that course falls. Students will not be charged more than $300 (2 late fees) over the entire summer term. See Summer Session Dates & Deadlines above. More information is provided in Important Notes below.
